

Sadler Consultants

We offer assistance and support for your air quality work

Sadler Consultants is a small consultancy, run by Lucy Sadler. Lucy has over 12 years' air quality experience from technical, to policy, to implementation. From its inception, Lucy led London's London-wide Air Quality Team, producing and implementing the first Mayoral Air Quality Strategy. Her background in physics, engineering and air quality assessment has helped to ensure a robust scientific basis to her work.

With Lucy Sadler's track record in leading the London air quality team, Sadler Consultants can help you:

- and your organisation in developing, implementing, or reacting to air quality policy
- in Learning Lessons from London
  - in particular from experiences of the Low Emission Zone feasibility study, Mayor's Air Quality Strategy and Congestion Charge
- in conducting investigations, studies and research reports
- by giving guidance on air quality management

Sadler Consultants offers to bring this experience, both broad and detailed, to your team.

This is just a selection of what we can offer.

Get in touch to see how we can help

Our main language is English, but German and French are also spoken.

Prior to setting up Sadler Consultants, Lucy led the production and implementation of London's first Mayoral Air Quality Strategy, one of the first to be implemented in any large city. This included:

- the London Low Emission Zone Feasibility Study
- air quality advice to the Central London Congestion Charge
- assessing & guiding the air quality work of 33 London local authorities
- producing emissions inventories and managing modelling contracts
- assessing planning applications and unitary development plans
- ensuring consistency with all the Mayor's other strategies, in particular transport, landuse planning, energy, noise and climate change
- explaining policies to both public and stakeholders
- developing measures that are well-founded in science, as well as being implementable, effective and politically acceptable
- a good understanding of political and stakeholder realities
- significant experience of EU and national Government issues

Lucy's work has also included advice to stakeholders, the UK Government and the EU, as well as cities and Governments in China, Eastern Europe and Scandinavia.

Lucy's previous background also included work on Government guidance and helplines, and prototype air quality monitor development and use.

Contact:
Lucy.Sadler@airqualitypolicy.co.uk
www.airqualitypolicy.co.uk